

Website Redesign Brief

Gabriella Flores

Client

The Plant Guy (thebestplantguy.com) is an interscape plant design business located in Orangevale, CA. They offer plant installation services and weekly maintenance. Their website needs a revamping to effectively showcase the services offered.

Mission

Plant ownership and maintenance made easy for busy people.

Target Audience

Small business owners and non-experienced plant lovers looking for a simple, hands off interior plant scaping design for their space. Specifically, men who are 50 and older.

Tone & Image

The goal is a toned-down color scheme that maintains a fresh, bright look with an informational and easy interface.

Specific Goals

- More polished, fresher looking website that showcases all their services and past projects.
- break up pages of textual information
- implement better galleries
- brighten and modernize color scheme
- provide info on past projects, plant and pot types, etc.
- include pricing info
